Box and Cox (1964) developed the transformation. Estimation of any Box-Cox parameters is by maximum likelihood. Box and Cox (1964) offered an example in which the data had the form of survival times but the underlying biological structure was of hazard rates, and the transformation identified this.

One notable variant of a Markov random field is a conditional random field, in which each random variable may also be conditioned upon a set of global observations. In this model, each function is a mapping from all assignments to both the clique  $k$  and the observations to the nonnegative real numbers. This form of the Markov network may be more appropriate for producing discriminative ...

About. A gramian matrix  $W$  is the result of all inner products of a set of vectors  $V = (v_1 \dots v_n)$ , in other words:  $W = V^T V$ . Properties of (linear) control systems can be assessed by the system gramians, which are based on the controllability and observability operators. Classically, the controllability gramian and observability gramian are utilized in balancing model reduction methods.
