This task force found that the proliferation of sexualized images of girls and young women in advertising, merchandising and media is harmful to girls' self-image and healthy development. Recommendations for what parents and girls can do to teach girls to value themselves for who they are, rather than how they look, media literacy resources and more.

Report of the APA Task Force on the Sexualization of Girls

A UCLA report commissioned by the National Coalition of Girls' Schools used data from a large national survey of U.S. college freshmen and found stronger academic orientations among women who had attended all-girls, compared to coeducational high schools, but the effects were small and the authors concluded "that the marginal benefits do not justify the potential threats to gender equity ...
